DECLARATION OF GRANT PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

Under 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I, Mason Briggs, hereby declare under penalty of perjury that the following is true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief:

BACKGROUND

1. I am Board President of the Grant Parish School Board (“School Board” or “the Board”). Under Louisiana law, the School Board is elected and has policymaking, financial, and administrative power over schools within its district (“Grant Parish Schools” or the “school district”).

2. Among its powers and responsibilities, the School Board secures funds for the school district, including by applying for grants, levying authorized taxes, and issuing bonds, and administers those funds. The School Board is also responsible for all school facilities within the district, including determining whether improvements are necessary, authorizing construction projects, and overseeing those projects.

3. The School Board oversees Grant Parish schools, which provide education for approximately 2768 students in pre-kindergarten through 12th grade.

4. The School Board receives federal funding, including funds distributed under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act and Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Because it is a recipient of federal funds, the School Board is subject to Title IX and Title IX regulations and has a Title IX coordinator.

5. During the last fiscal year (from July 2022 to June 2023) the School Board received $8,273,279 of federal funding subject to Title IX. It has received approximately $3,499,048 of federal funding so far this fiscal year (July 2023 to June 2024) that is subject to Title IX, and estimates it will receive at least $3,500,000 of federal funding next fiscal year (July 2024 to June 2025) that is subject to Title IX.

6. As of May 9, 2024, some students and staff claim a gender identity other than one that corresponds with their biological sex, including a gender identity other than male or female.

CURRENT POLICIES AND PRACTICES

7. Consistent with Title IX and current Title IX regulations, the School Board recognizes that biological differences between boys and girls demand differentiation based on sex in some circumstances to preserve privacy and promote respect, dignity, and equal opportunity for both sexes.

8. Grant Parish Schools accordingly have sex-specific bathrooms and locker rooms. Only biological males are allowed in bathrooms and locker rooms designated for “men” or “boys,” and only biological females are allowed in bathrooms and locker rooms designated for “women” or “girls.”

9. Elementary schools do not require students to change clothes. Bathrooms are sex-specific. Please see below for information concerning the changing areas and restrooms at our secondary schools:

- a. School A: Two locker rooms one for girls and one for boys. All Bathroom facilities are separated according to boy or girl.

- b. School B: Four shower stalls in the girls' gym bathroom, only one has a shower. There will be three in the football locker room after current construction is complete.
 - c. School C: The showers are stalls with curtains in the locker rooms. Each locker room has three to four private stalls for restrooms. The locker rooms are open air. Students do not dress out for daily PE, but they do dress out for athletic practices and athletic competitions.
 - d. We have open showers. The locker rooms are open changing rooms. There are bathroom stalls inside which could be used for privacy. We have five individual bathrooms on campus plus two handicapped bathrooms that are individual.
10. When students and employees claim a gender identity that differs from their biological sex, those students and employees may use a single-user bathroom.
11. Grant Parish Schools also have some sex-specific classes and activities, such as PE.
12. Grant Parish Schools provide students with enriching extracurricular opportunities, including interscholastic athletics for junior high and high school levels. Many of the athletic teams are designated as being for boys or girls. For example, Grant Parish Schools have separate girls' teams for basketball, softball, cross country, track and field, powerlifting, soccer, and golf and boys' teams for basketball, baseball, soccer, cross country, track and field, powerlifting, and golf.
13. Grant Parish Schools follow Louisiana's Fairness in Women's Sports Act, which "promote[s] sex equality" by "providing opportunities for female athletes to demonstrate their skill, strength, and athletic abilities while also providing them with opportunities to obtain recognition, accolades, scholarships, better physical and mental health, and the numerous other long-term benefits that flow from success in athletic endeavors." La. Rev. Stat. § 4:442(9).
14. Accordingly, Grant Parish Schools' teams designated for girls are not "open to students who are not biologically female." Id. § 4:444(B). The School Board believes this policy advances equal athletic opportunities for girls, increases girls' participation in athletics, and reduces the chances that girls will be seriously injured by competing in contact sports with biological boys.

15. Grant Parish Schools occasionally have overnight field trips. On those field trips, Grant Parish Schools assign chaperones and students to rooms based on sex. Students either share a bed or have the option to sleep on the couch or floor if they feel uncomfortable.

16. The School Board does not have a policy that requires students and staff to use biologically inaccurate pronouns or neopronouns based on an individual's claimed gender identity.¹

17. The School Board believes its policies and practices are in the best interest of students, staff, community, and its educational mission.

THE RULE'S IMPACT

18. On April 29, 2024, the U.S. Department of Education published a final rule titled "Nondiscrimination on the Basis of Sex in Education Programs or Activities Receiving Federal Financial Assistance," 89 Fed. Reg. 33,474 (Apr. 29, 2024) (the "Rule"). Although the Rule has an effective date of August 1, 2024, see id. at 33,549, the Rule has already caused and will continue to cause the School Board and school district irreparable harm well before that date.

19. The Rule harms the school district by dramatically increasing its federal obligations, compliance costs, and litigation risks. It does so by, among other things, (1) revising Title IX's prohibition on sex discrimination to include discrimination based on other grounds,² such as "gender identity,"³ (2) generally requiring persons to be treated consistently with his or her claimed gender

² See 89 Fed. Reg. at 33,886 ("Discrimination on the basis of sex includes discrimination on the basis of sex stereotypes, sex characteristics, pregnancy or related conditions, sexual orientation, and gender identity.").

³ See id. at 33,809 (disagreeing that the term "gender identity" needs to be defined in the regulations and "understand[ing] gender identity to describe an individual's sense of their gender, which may or may not be different from their sex assigned at birth" or "subjective, deep-core sense of self as being a particular gender"); id. at 33,818 (recognizing that someone can identity,⁴ which includes allowing persons to use bathrooms and locker rooms that are inconsistent with their biological sex,⁵ and (3) expanding prohibited discrimination to include allegedly harassing speech that limits educational opportunities,⁶ which can include a refusal to refer to a student by whatever pronouns that student demands.⁷

20. The Rule thus conflicts with many of the school district's policies and practices, including the ones detailed above that provide for sex-specific facilities, classes, and athletic teams. It will also require the school district to adopt a policy ("New Speech Policy") that, among other things, (1) prohibits students and staff from using accurate pronouns for persons who claim a gender identity have a gender identity other than "male or female"); see also What Are the 72 Other Genders?, MedicineNet (medically reviewed on Feb. 9, 2024), https://www.medicinenet.com/what_are_the_72_other_genders/article.htm (explaining that there are 72 other genders "[b]eside male and female," and "[t]he idea is to make everyone feel comfortable in their skin irrespective of what gender they were assigned at birth"); What you need to know about xenogender, LGBTQNation (updated on July 26, 2022), <https://www.lgbtqnation.com/2022/03/need-know-xenogender/> (explaining that "xenogender" "describes someone who doesn't feel like their gender identity fits into any of the traditional categories of male or female," "[x]enogender identities . . . fill a 'lexical gap' . . . by comparing their gender identities to certain concepts – pre-existing or imaginary," and that "[t]here dozens of different types of xenogenders out there").

that is different from their biological sex and (2) requires students and staff to use biological inaccurate pronouns or neopronouns based on an individual's claimed gender identity.

21. That means, as a threshold matter, the Rule imminently harms the school district by interfering with the authority of the duly elected School Board to set policies and establish practices that it believes are in the best interest of its students, staff, community, and its educational mission. The Rule will require the School Board to start taking steps to change its current policies and practices, which the School Board does not wish to do.

22. Moreover, requiring the School Board to change policies and implement new procedures across Grant Parish Schools will impose the following imminent and irreparable compliance costs:

- a. Costs and time to review and understand the Rule, which will take approximately 50 hours of employee time and cost approximately $5,000. Some of these costs have already been incurred; however, the bulk of these costs will be incurred by May 30, 2024.
- b. Costs and time to revise school district policies, which will take approximately 30 hours of employee time and cost approximately $3,600. The school district policies will need to be completed and approved by no later than June 21, 2024 so that the school district has time to revise employee training materials and train employees before the Rule's effective date.
- c. Costs and time to revise employee training, which take approximately 30 hours of employee time and cost approximately $15,000. This will need to be completed by July 26, 2024.
- d. Costs and time to train employees regarding new obligations under the Rule and changes to school district policies and practices, which will take approximately 2 hours of employee time and cost approximately $20,000. This training will need to be completed on August 1, 2024 when the school district does its yearly training/before August 1, 2024.

23. Furthermore, the specific policy changes that are required by the Rule will impose additional costs on the school district. For example, the New Speech Policy will chill academic discourse and detract from the school district's ability to teach students to be critical thinkers who can engage with ideas from a variety of viewpoints. Teachers will be conscripted into enforcing this policy and to report any speech that “reasonably may” constitute harassment under the Rule, 89 Fed. Reg. at 38,888, which could include students expressing a religious belief about humanity or using accurate pronouns for a classmate who demands everyone use neopronouns, see id. at 33,514–16. This would hurt the school district (and the students) from diverting teachers’ time and attention away from teaching and would likely lead some teachers to resign. Around 35 teachers have indicated that they would consider resigning. This policy will also likely lead to private litigation. Some teachers and parents (on behalf of their children) would sue the school district claiming infringement of Free Speech and Free Exercise rights.

24. To take another example, the school district will need to change its policy and practices so that men or boys who claim to have a female gender identity can use girls’ bathrooms and locker rooms. The Rule warns that “requiring a student to submit to invasive medical inquiries or burdensome documentation requirements” before treating a student consistently with claimed gender identity “imposes more than de minimis harm” and would be discrimination. Id. at 33,819. The school district therefore cannot prevent male predators from insincerely asserting a female gender identity to access girls’ bathrooms and locker rooms. They cannot, for example—without risking enforcement proceedings and liability under the Rule—require a diagnosis of gender dysphoria (previously referred to as gender identity disorder) before allowing a male to enter a girls’ bathroom or locker room.

25. In an effort to lessen the harms caused by the Rule (and possibly to comply with the Rule itself),⁸ the school district would be compelled to undertake expensive construction projects to convert all bathroom and locker rooms into single-user facilities or to otherwise make modifications to increase students’ privacy and safety.

⁸ The Rule requires school districts to provide “nondiscriminatory access to facilities” to students who “do not identify as male or female.” See id. at 33,818. If school districts designate certain bathrooms as “girls” bathrooms and certain bathrooms as “boys” bathrooms, they may need to likewise designate other bathrooms in accordance with multiple other gender identities.

26. Changes to the physical layout of locker rooms would include creating a private showering and changing spaces to increase students' privacy at the four secondary schools. Elementary schools would need to have individual bathrooms that are separate and not sex specific. The bidding process would occur after an architect draws the project, which takes months. The estimated cost for construction on additional bathrooms for elementary schools is $150,000 per school. The estimated cost for construction for the middle school would be $200,000, and for the three high schools it would be $500,000 for each school. This would total $2,150,000 in construction costs alone. Our construction manager would also charge a fee. If we started this process now, it is likely construction would not finish before December 12, 2024.

27. The Rule also will create conflicts between Grant Parish Schools and parents, such as by requiring school districts to take steps to address purported harassment even when that child's parents do not wish to file a complaint and believe that no harassment occurred. See, e.g., id. at 33,821–22 (refusing to answer “whether a recipient should comply with a request by a minor student to change their name or pronouns used at school if their parent opposes the change”); id. at 33,596–96 (noting that even where the Title IX coordinator defers to the parent about whether to file a complaint, “the Title IX Coordinator may still be required to, as necessary, take other steps,” such as training about harassment). This harms the school district that believes in partnering with parents and could lead to lawsuits alleging the school district has violated parental rights.

28. Additionally, the Rule limits what information Grant Parish Schools can share with parents and warns that schools could be guilty of harassment if they disclose someone's gender identity (such as informing parents that a biological boy identifies as a girl). See id. at 33,622 (explaining that schools could violate the Rule if they “disclose personally identifiable information about a student's sexual orientation or gender identity broadly to other students or employees, which resulted in the student experiencing sex-based harassment”); id. at 33,536 (emphasizing that, “[t]o the extent that a conflict exists between a recipient's obligations under Title IX and under FERPA [the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act], § 106.6(e) [of the Rule] expressly states that the obligation to comply with the Title IX regulations is not obviated or alleviated by the FERPA statute or regulations" and "that a recipient must not use FERPA as a shield from compliance with Title IX"). This places Grant Parish Schools in an untenable position, especially when it comes to overnight field trips. The Rule seems to both require Grant Parish Schools to assign boys who claim to be girls to a girls-only room and to prohibit the Grant Parish Schools from informing those girls' parents of the biological sex of their children's roommate.

29. The Rule will likely harm the school district by reducing enrollment. Many parents in our community will not want their children to have to share bathrooms, locker rooms, and overnight accommodations with members of the opposite sex or have their children's speech and religious exercise to be chilled. Accordingly, the Rule will cause an increased number of families to decide to homeschool their children or enroll them in a religious school. Several constituents have expressed to board members and school personnel their desire to use homeschooling or private school for their students if the district implements the Rule.

30. Additionally, the Rule will increase the School Board's obligations and risks of liability related to the Grant Parish Schools' compliance with Louisiana law prohibiting boys from playing on girls' teams. Because the Rule defines "[d]iscrimination on the basis of sex" to include "gender identity" and generally requires schools to treat children according to their claimed gender identity, id. at 33,815, 33,886, the school district's refusal to allow a boy who identifies as a girl from playing on a girls' team would be conduct that "reasonably may be sex" discrimination under the Rule that will trigger the school district's obligations to "respond promptly and effectively" and increase liability risks, id. at 33,563, 33,888; see Brief of U.S. Dep't of Justice, Civil Rights Division, B.P.J. v. West Va. State Bd. of Educ., No. 23-1078, ECF No. 68-1 at 12-13 (4th Cir. Apr. 3, 2023) (arguing that categorically prohibiting boys who claim a female gender identity from “participating on girls’ sports teams because their sex assigned at birth was male . . . discriminates on the basis of sex”).

31. The Rule will also impose ongoing costs on the school as a result of increased Title IX complaints, investigations, and private lawsuits based on, among other things, the (1) expanded scope of what constitutes discrimination on the basis of sex, (2) expanded definition of harassment, and (3) application of Title IX to conduct that occurs outside of the school district’s programs and activities.

32. Other provisions of the Rule will also require the school district to expend more time and resources. For example, the Rule increases monitoring and recordkeeping requirements. See id. at 33,886 (requiring recipient to keep “each notification” “about conduct that reasonably may constitute discrimination” and “actions the recipient too” in response for seven years); 33,888 (requiring Title IX Coordinator to monitor recipient’s programs and activities “for barriers to reporting”).

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on this 9th day of May, 2024 in Colfax, Louisiana.
